Amalia Hernández Sendín is a principal associate in the Administrative Law, Planning and Zoning, and Environmental Department at Garrigues, where she has pursued her professional career since 2004.

She specializes in commerce-related matters (including e-commerce), consumer affairs and market surveillance. She also has qualified experience in public sector contracts and in the structuring of public-private partnership models with budget separation.

She has participated in many legal audits and in the preparation of reports in connection with various industries. She also has considerable expertise in zoning and in matters related to historical heritage. Her participation in providing advice on the organization of major sporting events is also worth noting.

In addition, she has provided advice on all types of administrative and judicial review proceedings, particularly in connection with penalties.

She has a Law Degree from Universidad de Salamanca and is a member of the Madrid Bar Association. She has collaborated with several teaching institutions.

Experience

Amalia Hernández Sendín is a principal associate of the Administrative Law, Planning and Zoning, and Environmental Department at Garrigues. She joined the firm in 2004.

Since she joined Garrigues' Madrid office, she has provided advice both to the State and regional public sector and to private companies and operators in various areas and sectors of administrative activity.

She specializes in matters related to trade and consumer goods, including e-commerce, in various industries (fashion, food, services etc.) and on various topics (implementation and start-up of all types of commercial establishments, regulatory requirements for the sale of all kinds of products, promotional sales, commercial practices, post-sale services, penalty proceedings, etc.). She is also highly specialized in product compliance and market surveillance.

Amalia is a qualified advisor on matters related to contracts with public sector entities. In particular she has experience in the structuring of public-private partnership models in various sectors, in particular health and transport. In this area she has provided assistance to public authorities for the purposes of analyzing their legal capacity to acquire debt, the alternatives for the execution of infrastructure with budget separation and assistance during tender processes. Her participation in preparing numerous special administrative terms of tender is also worthy of note. In the field of public contracts, she also provides advice to the private sector in matters related to the execution, modification, assignment and termination of all types of public sector contracts, including assistance in the preparation of special appeals in connection with public contracts.

Throughout her long professional career, Amalia has participated in many legal audits, providing advice on all kinds of administrative and regulatory matters in numerous M&A and restructuring transactions performed by Spanish companies in the last few years.

She has also collaborated in the preparation of all kinds of reports and expert opinions, including those of a constitutional nature, regarding the most diverse matters and in a variety of sectors (public property, transport and logistics, health, waste, etc.).

She also provides advice to the public and private sectors on zoning matters and planning, in particular in relation to zoning enforcement (identification of the acts requiring a license or solemn declaration, rules on transfer of licenses, the relationship between municipal licenses and other industry authorizations, especially the environment and trade, etc.).

She has also provided advisory services in the organization of major sports events and in view of her knowledge on the subject on various aspects of the legal regime applicable to the Spanish historical heritage.

Furthermore, Amalia is an expert adviser in relation to all types of administrative procedures and appeals, especially in the area of administrative penalty proceedings. She also has vast experience in providing legal assistance to companies on all types of judicial review proceedings, including claims for financial liability.
