Family Business

Francisco Sánchez Baeza is a partner in the Tax Law Department of Garrigues in Murcia.

He joined the firm in 1995.

He specialises in the agri-food and industrial sectors.

Among other fields, he is an expert in estate planning for business families, both in terms of the tax aspects related to the management and succession of family assets, and in the preparation of family business protocols and the implementation of family councils that channel the will of ownership of family businesses.

Graduate in Economics and Business Studies from the University of Valencia.

Master's Degree in Tax Law from the School of Public Finance.

Experience

Francisco Sánchez is a partner in the Tax Law Department of Garrigues in Murcia, where he has developed his professional career after working for Arthur Andersen.

He specialises in tax law, especially in the agri-food and industrial sectors. He has also participated in numerous M&A operations and is a recognised expert in Accounting Law and Family Business Consultancy.

Among other fields, he is an expert in estate planning for business families, both in terms of tax aspects related to the management and succession of family wealth, as well as in the drafting of family business protocols and the implementation of family councils that channel the will of the ownership of family businesses.

He actively participates in the analysis and design of measures that allow the business fabric of the Region of Murcia to optimise the management of their businesses and assets, being a great connoisseur of the problems that characterise this type of companies.

On the other hand, his extensive experience has allowed him to collaborate with multinational groups present in the Region, satisfying the information and advice needs that these investors require, facilitating their relations with the Tax Administration.
